GREETINGS FROM THE INTERIM EXECUTIVE PRESBYTER

Dear Members and Friends of Northern Plains Presbytery,

It is a real honor to greet you as your new Interim Executive Presbyter. I am excited to be on the job and looking forward to the opportunity to get to know more of you and to work together on the interim tasks before us.

Whenever St. Paul wrote to one of his churches, he would invariably remind them that they could find both their joy and their unity in the grace and peace extended to them by God through Jesus Christ. It is a reminder that needs to be front and center in the life of our presbytery as we begin this new chapter together. While our differences are real and need to be voiced and heard, what we hold in common is a commitment to a Lord who graces us daily with everything we need to live faithfully and at peace with one another. For reasons I do not completely understand, there has been a mantra of sorts in my mind during this time of transition, both for me and for you. "God is in everything" has been running continually in my head and heart; I believe it and ask you to do the same.

As I reflect upon what I would most like to say to you in this, my first contribution to our newsletter, it strikes me that there might be three questions you'd like to put to me and that it could be helpful if I tried to make a brief reply to each of them:

1. What do you see as the main "interim tasks" before the Presbytery?
2. How do you expect to go about helping us to address them?
3. How can we best help you to do this?

As to the interim tasks we face, I am pleased to say that we had a good discussion at the Council meeting yesterday (June 4) and it helped me to be clearer about the challenges ahead. As you know, we are seeking to live into a vision of ourselves as "a vibrant, informed Presbyterian community which nourishes ministry and joins in Christ's mission." What became clearer to me with the help of the Council was that there are a cluster of questions we need to address if we are going to be able to do this. I want to emphasize four of them:

1. How are we being led to claim and strengthen our Presbyterian identity here on the Great Plains?
2. How can we do a better job of nurturing leaders and strengthening their capacity to lead the Presbytery in mission and ministry?

3. What is the best way to organize and coordinate our various ministries so as to make them most effective?
4. Given the real limits to our resources, what model of presbytery staffing can we adopt to move us forward in serving Christ's mission in this place?

As to how I might help the presbytery in addressing these concerns, I want to stress three strategies that are important to me and, I hope, will be useful to you. First, we need to create a climate of trust in the presbytery so that we can come together as members of the same body who understand and accept our need for one another. Second, we need to have honest conversations that give voice to both our hopes and fears about the future. And, finally, we need to wait together for those moments when the Spirit opens our hearts and shows us the ways we need to go. Without such guidance, we will fizzle and fade; with it, we move ahead with boldness.

So what can you do? Clearly, we need as many of you as possible to be fully engaged in this time of discernment and decision. Pray for your Presbytery, both in your personal devotions and in your public worship. Talk with one another about the questions we are facing. And, when you are invited to special meetings to discuss these issues with others from around the presbytery, make every effort to prepare, to present yourself and to make your contribution.

“A vibrant, informed Presbyterian community” is built from vibrant and informed Presbyterians. I urge you to be one and to join us in building up our presbytery, to the glory of God.

Yours in Christ,
Steve Minnema

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

By: Don Hariman, Chair of Nominating Committee

The committee on Nominations will be commencing its meetings and search process for candidates who feel a call and a willingness to serve the church through the presbytery by accepting nomination as Alternate Commissioner to General Assembly for the GA session of 2010.

We will be searching for candidates both clergy and elders for these positions. We call your attention to the Manual of Operations of the presbytery; particularly section P-6.0104 Section III c which details the criteria for nominating elders and clergy to these positions. Nominations may be received from church Sessions, from individuals or the candidate may self-nominate. A written statement of the sense of call to service is necessary for consideration.

In addition we will need to nominate a Youth Advisory Delegate (YAD) to GA and Synod and we would appreciate the response of the presbytery regarding eligible individuals who would engage this opportunity for service and education within the church.

Please send all nominations to the Nominating Committee at the Presbytery office during the month of June. You may also contact members of the committee.

Members of the Nominations Committee are: D. G. Hariman, Grand Forks; John Werth, Cavalier; Matthew Stith, West Fargo; Sylvia Pringle, Jamestown; JoAnn Zutz, Red Lake Falls; Edie Wagar, Towner; Mindy Meier, New Rockford; Marilyn Olson, Fargo.

MORE GRANTS GIVEN AWAY

By: Gretchen Graf, Chair of Budget & Finance

Council was pleased to approve six new requests for mission grants at its meeting in early June. These grants will fund a variety of mission projects proposed by churches and presbytery teams.

Youth from Rolla will receive funds to help with their mission trip to Kansas City in July. The Fargo church will explore a new mission relationship with San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, beginning with a mission trip in November. Presbyterians and Methodists in Jamestown will encourage community involvement in their churches at a street fair in August, and we'll provide support for this event.

Two presbytery teams asked us to support educational events. We'll become a sponsor for the International Climate Stewardship Solutions workshop in Bismarck in June, a project of the Prairie Climate Stewardship Network. The Rev. Darrel Cory will attend a conference themed "Making a Difference" and share his learning with the presbytery when he returns. In addition, we've agreed to purchase an automated external defibrillator for Clearwater Forest. As the camp attracts an aging population for retreats and workshops, a defibrillator is a precaution which may save a life.

Some funds remain in the mission grant budget for 2009. Any church or presbytery team may request funds by sending a brief description of the mission project to the presbytery council and including a budget showing the need the grant will meet. Please address requests to the presbytery office.

2010 PER CAPITA SET

2010 Per Capita will remain the same as 2009. The delegates at the April Presbytery decided to support the recommendation of the Budget and Finance Committee and not increase it. A similar decision was made at the Synod's spring meeting. According to the Synod office, this will be the first time since 1999 that there has been no year-over-year increase in per capita.

The per capita apportionment is based on the funds necessary for the Presbytery/Synod/General Assembly to do its essential ecclesiastical work. It has been said that per capita apportionment is like a utility bill. Just as we pay heat, light, water and telephone in order to remain connected to the utility system and benefit from the services provided, we also pay per capita so that the Presbyterian system can function on behalf of all of us.

2010 Per Capita Apportionment breakdown:

General Assembly	$ 6.15
Synod of Lakes & Prairies	$ 4.80
Northern Plains Presbytery	$31.00
Total 2010 Per Capita	$41.95

The 2010 apportionment is based on a church's membership as of December 31, 2008 as reported in the 2008 General Assembly Minutes (Part 11, Statistics).
